SPLENDID WORK

At Boys' Industrial School Reflects Credit On O. C. Larason

(Lancaster Gazette).

Great advancement has been made in the educational department of the Boys' Industrial school during the past year and the fact has become known state-wide, in whatever towns or cities boys live who have been recently paroled from the institution. With the education the lads are now receiving they are able to care for themselves after going out into the world and shifting each for himself.

The scholastic training they receive is far superior to that of any similar institution and the good work reflects great credit upon Prof. O. C. Larason, the superintendent of the B. I. S. educational department. The only two educational papers published in Ohio in recognition of Mr. Larason's ability and talent in teaching these wayward boys have the following to say:

"Prof. O. C. Larason has been bringing important things to pass in the department of education of the Boys' Industrial School of Lancaster substantial recognition of which comes to him in the form of a re-election as superintendent of schools at an increase of $300 salary."—The Ohio Teacher, Athens, Ohio.

"Supt. O. C. Larason, of the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster, has been re-elected and $300 added to his salary. This is conclusive proof that he is an unqualified success. A recent issue of the paper published at the school is a sort of panorama of the many good things they are doing to lead the boys into paths of industry, self-respect, self-reliance and sterling manhood."—Editorial department, Ohio Education Monthly, of Columbus.

WONDERFUL

Piano Playing Of Little Olive R. Dungan

Highly Spoken Of By Pittsburgh Papers

The Banner is in receipt of copies of the Pittsburgh Dispatch and the Pittsburgh Gazette Times, containing most interesting accounts of the piano playing of little Olive Rosalia Dungan, a niece of Mrs. Olive A. Slingluff, formerly of Mt. Vernon. The little girl is quite well known in this city where she has visited several times and her playing has been heard by a number of people. Mt. Vernon friends will be interested in the following from the Pittsburgh papers:

Pittsburgh Dispatch, July 14—"Olive Rosalia Dungan, 7 years old, infant prodigy, wonder-kind pianiste, delighted the large and fashionable audience that had assembled at the 'Rittenhouse,' Thursday evening, July 13, to hear her play with the Pittsburgh Orchestra. Well may she be compared to Mozart, her solos being composed before the appalled people.

Her extreme delicacy, finish and style marks her a genius of the finest character. On being encored for the third time, her aunt, Mrs. Olive Slingluff of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, sang the 'Maiden's Wish' by Chopin, a classic. This was one of the most pleasing features, showing the child's wonderful gift as an accompanist. She was overwhelmed with rose-buds and sweet peas and many other gifts to please the little one. Her simple child-like, gracious sweetness as she put her little dolly on the piano, won her many comments of praise. Up to the present time she has had no musical training. She is the only child of the late L. D. Dungan and Katherine Ball Dungan, a former Pittsburgh singer."

Pittsburgh Times Gazette, July 16—"Olive R. Dungan, seven-year-old pianiste, who appeared with the Pittsburgh Orchestra at Rittenhouse, July 13, received an enviable ovation from a most representative gathering of Pittsburgh's music lovers. This child not only performs with rare skill, but has the art of improvising to a remarkable degree. The latter accomplishment is an unusual one and is indicative of a depth of understanding—a musical instinct which is as significant as it is rare.

ASSUMES

Duties As Secretary Of The Mt. Vernon Y. M. C. A.

Does Mr. Ray H. Kinney On August The First

A Brief Sketch Of Mr. Kinney's Former Work

After careful investigation of the available men in this state, the directors of the Y. M. C. A. selected R. H. Kinney to succeed E. H. Jesson as general secretary of the local association.

Mr. Kinney has completed a very successful three-year period as general secretary of the association at Middleport, O. After a much needed rest he will assume his new responsibilities here August 1st. He comes to Mt. Vernon with a splendid record for efficiency and executive ability, which has been seasoned by five years of practical association experience. He is a man of liberal education, having worked his way through Oberlin college, where he received with honors the degree of bachelor of arts. Being an enthusiastic athlete, he found time in the midst of his other duties to take an active part in athletics, playing on the baseball and football teams. The people of Middleport and others with whom Mr. Kinney has worked have without exception spoken in praise of his personal qualities and the character of his work. An article in the leading Middleport paper at the time of his resignation reads in part as follows:

MR. RAY H. KINNEY
The New Secretary of the Mt. Vernon Y. M. C. A.

"Mr. Kinney's home is at Austinburg, Ashtabula county. After taking the degree of bachelor of arts from Oberlin college, he connected himself with Y. M. C. A. work, and spent two years in the work before coming to Middleport—one year at Erie, Pa., and another at Cleveland. He came to Middleport in July, 1908, and a month later was married to Miss Anne Foote of Illinois, who was a student at the Oberlin conservatory of music and Oberlin college. Mr. and Mrs. Kinney have made many warm friends in Middleport and vicinity, and the announcement of their intended departure is a matter of general and sincere regret.

"When Mr. Kinney assumed charge of the Middleport association's affairs on July 6, 1908, the board of directors had several weeks before decided to close up the association, and it was being held open only on the intercession of the state secretary, who asked three months' time in which to prove that the proposition could be made to pay its way. At that time there were but 154 members, and these were dropping out as fast as their tickets expired, and the association had little or no credit in town, due to a net indebtedness of nearly $1850.

"The state secretary thought he recognized in Mr. Kinney the man who could bring the Middleport association out of the kinks, and at his request gave up the offer of a higher salary elsewhere to tackle this uphill proposition.

"Three years have passed, and instead of a membership of 150, the association now has a membership of 442; and instead of an indebtedness of $1850, there are now cash and assets to the amount of $2028.85. Those who know the conditions under which Mr. Kinney has had to labor and the odds which have been against him will see from these figures that his achievements have been little short of phenomenal. During his term of service he was four times offered more money to go elsewhere, but he had come to Middleport with the commission to make the association a go, and he stuck to his task until he saw his labors crowned with success. But the heavy strain of this work, the long hours and the fact that he has had no vacation have combined to impair his health to such an extent that he has now been forced to resign and look for rest."

The directors and friends of the local association believe that Mr. Kinney is the right man to carry forward the work to a greater success than has yet been achieved. To this end they bespeak a cordial welcome to him from the people of Mt. Vernon and Knox county, and loyal support of his efforts in behalf of the boys and men of this community.

POSES

As A Man With A Circus For Two Years

Newark, July 18.—After masquerading for two years as a man and traveling with John Robinson's circus as a driver of a wagon for that time, Miss Hazel Hawley, wearing skirts for the first time in that period, arrived here today seeking her parents. Her father, S. H. Hawley, was a resident here until two years ago, when he left town for Virginia.

The young woman disappeared from Newark following a quarrel with her fiance. Nothing was heard of her and her parents moved away from here, believing her dead. Manager John Robinson made the discovery that one of his wagon drivers was a woman and sent her from Urbana yesterday to this place to see her parents and join the circus when it plays here next Monday.

Miss Hawley says she will remain here until the circus arrives and will finish her contract with the management. In the meantime her parents are being hunted throughout the South.

DEATH

Claims A Former Resident Of Danville

(Wooster News)

Harry Robinson, cornet soloist of the Wooster band, received a telegram at noon Monday announcing the death of his father, Joseph Robinson at Evansville, Ind. The news of his father's death was a great shock to the young man who did not know he was ill.

Harry Robinson and wife have been camping at Chippewa Lake and the message was delivered to him there. It was from Mr. Donnell and merely stated that the father had died Sunday. No particulars whatever were given. Harry Robinson expects to leave Monday night for Evansville to take charge of the body. Interment will probably be made at Memphis, Tenn., where the family has lived for several years and where Mrs. Robinson is now residing.

Joseph Robinson is a well-known in Wooster as a musician. He was born at Danville and was 46 years of age. A year ago he came to Wooster and started the new Wooster band but later left for the south. He remained here, however, until the success of the band was assured and it is largely due to his first efforts that the city has its present fine musical organization. Harry Robinson had not heard from his father for a few weeks, and did not know that he had been ill. His father some months ago obtained a pilot's license and Mr. Donnell was engaged in building a show boat. It is believed that Mr. Robinson had arranged to go with him and that he was suddenly stricken at Evansville. Mrs. Robinson, son Harry and one daughter, Hazel, of Mt. Vernon, survive.

BOY INJURED

A small boy by the name of Campbell was injured by being struck by an automobile on West Gambier street shortly before noon Wednesday. He had been riding in the back of an ice wagon and jumped off suddenly directly in front of a moving automobile. In spite of the efforts of the driver to stop, the boy was struck and knocked down, a severe cut being inflicted on the head. The machine was not moving fast at the time of the accident or the result would probably have been serious.
